June 26. CAMRA.

PRESTONBURG, Ky., June 18, 1900. To the voters of the 10th congressional district of Kentucky:

Having during the past three months, a large number of letters from friends in different parts of the district, as well as many personal requests, all urging me to become a candidate for the democratic nomination for representative in the lower house of congress; all of which I most respectfully begged to decline, only to be met with the declaration that "They would nominate me anyway," which if done, although hardly probable, I could not afford to decline.

While I have never been a seeker of public place, nor honor, but on the other hand have preferred to labor for my friends, and the success of the democratic party, always obeying its calls no matter how hard the service or great the sacrifice to personal interest, trying all the while to have due regard for the personal feelings of those who saw differently from myself; and having always held and believed that the men who entered a contest, and asked for party preferment in our political organization, unless wholly unfit, should be preferred, and the "dark horse" policy discouraged; believing as I do that this idea is but just, and that zealous friends intend to push my name in the coming convention. It is but fair and right that the able and worthy gentlemen who have openly entered this contest, and are each my personal friends, should know who their opponents are to be.

And with the same spirit of frankness with which I would have them to treat me under like circumstances, I now declare myself a candidate for the democratic nomination for representative in the 10th congressional district of Kentucky to the national congress, pledging myself to make an open honorable canvass for the nomination, not doing an act or making an utterance for which I would have to apologize when we came to meet the common enemy, whether I be called to go out in my own behalf, or in behalf of either of my worthy opponents, who may receive this honor over me; and if nominated to make a vigorous campaign in the interest of democracy and the great common people, and when elected to give to the country honest, faithful public service.

I am your obedient servant,
FRANK A. HOPKINS.

John Faulkner, of Caney, formerly of this place, who has been working on the big Caney tunnel, was here on Tuesday looking for hands to take the place of some 25 or 30 that have left.

THE BEST

Food for Intellectual Thought.

No man can vote intelligently unless he thinks intelligently. In this time of "wars and rumors of wars" the greatest aid to intelligent thinking and the best food for intelligent thought is that newspaper which is greatest and best.

Important political issues are daily growing more important. An intelligent understanding of the policy of a nation or a great political party is something to be desired, and it is the duty of every citizen to thoroughly inform himself upon the leading topics of the day.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY REPUBLIC is the greatest and best of all newspapers. Its telegraphic and cable news service excels that of any other paper. It prints the news fully; not imaginative occurrences, but domestic and world-distant, fully authenticated facts.

The policies of the great political parties are now being formed and the candidate discussed. Now is the time to subscribe for the best medium of keeping in touch with the whole world—THE SEMI-WEEKLY REPUBLIC.

No less worthy of attention is THE REPUBLIC'S Sunday Magazine. It is replete each issue with the best of special articles written by the best of literary talent. Its beautiful half-tone illustrations have already made it famous and their quality and quantity will be preserved.

News features of absorbing attraction are illustrated and enlarged upon in a manner equal to the high priced magazines. Event of current interest are set forth in entertaining style. There is humor in its pages, too, and for the benefit of the ladies the latest Paris fashions are each week exquisitely illustrated and described. THE REPUBLIC'S Sunday Magazine is standard.

The subscription price of THE SEMI-WEEKLY REPUBLIC is $1.00 per year. THE REPUBLIC'S Sunday Magazine $1.25 per year. Both papers are now being offered at the low price of $1.50 for one year. To secure this low rate both must be ordered and paid for at the same time. Address all orders to THE REPUBLIC, St. Louis, Mo.
